ENGG B2A - English for Intercultural Communication B2A

Utilizing learner-centered methodology, flipped classroom and task-based instruction, learners will be able to catch with some effort much of what is said around them, and read correspondence relating to their field of interest and readily grasp the essential meaning. They will also be able to convey degrees of emotion and highlight the personal significance of events and experiences. They will participate actively in routine and non-routine formal discussions on relevant matters and understand in detail the points given prominence by the speaker. They will also be able to understand and exchange complex information and advice on the full range of matters related to their occupational role, in addition to producing longer narrative and descriptive pieces of writing. The course is the first of the B2 stage of the CEFR. Prerequisites: Successful completion of ENGG B1D or appropriate SEPT score ENGG B2A.

Part of : English for Intercultural Communication Certificate (B2)
